

Kelli Shrewsberry, Chief Innovation Officer
TECH CORPS
www.techcorps.org

Kelli Shrewsberry is an experienced educator with over 30 years in the field of education. She holds a Master of Arts in Teaching (Biological Sciences) from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and a Bachelor of Science with Elementary Education (1-8) certification from Shawnee State University in Portsmouth, Ohio. As the Chief Program Officer for TECH CORPS, Kelli is responsible for overseeing the design of program curriculum and professional development initiatives to ensure that the organization achieves its objectives.

TECH CORPS is a national nonprofit organization that delivers high-quality, career-connected programs to K-12 students and educators. Founded in 1995 and with a demonstrated track record of success, TECH CORPS imagines a world where every student has the skills, confidence and opportunities to unlock the door to a successful future.

Kelli began her career as an elementary classroom teacher in South-Western City Schools, where she honed her skills in fostering student growth and engagement. Her passion for professional development led her to take on a Teacher on Special Assignment position, where she served as a Professional Development Coordinator, then later as Executive Director of the Teaching & Learning Collaborative. Throughout her career, Kelli has played a significant role in coordinating state, federal, and corporate foundation grants, demonstrating her expertise in securing funding for educational initiatives. In 2017, Kelli led both the Writing team and Advisory group in the development of Ohio's initial set of K-12 Computer Science Standards.

Kelli's career reflects a deep passion for educational excellence, with a focus on continuous learning, collaboration, and fostering an environment where both teachers and students can thrive. As she continues to serve in the education sector, she remains a steadfast advocate for the professional development of educators and the creation of innovative opportunities for students.

Linked  <https://www.linkedin.com/in/kelli-shrewsberry/>